She has always drunk tea and coffee, and takes a drink of whiskey occasionally. Her third husband is living.

BROKEN RECORDS ON ORMOND BEACH

Finest Place in the World for Automobiles, and Its Advantages are Being Utilized

Ormond, Fla., March 27.—During the next day or two devotees of the automobile throughout the country will keep their faces turned toward this resort. On the superb beach tract that extends for more than thirty miles along the coast between here and Daytona there will be a series of automobile races, the like of which has seldom before been witnessed in America. The meet has been arranged by the Daytona Automobile Club, and at the club's invitation a large number of well known automobile enthusiasts are here from New York, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and other cities to take part. Experimental runs during the winter led to the belief that a high power machine can make a mile over the smooth beach in fifty seconds or less, and every one is looking forward to the establishment of new records before the meet concludes Saturday. If the meet is as successful as it promises, the same course will probably be chosen for the trials to select the American team for the Gordon Bennett race in Ireland this summer.

Winton broke his record of one minute two and a quarter seconds, by making a mile in fifty-six. Oscar Hedstrom, of Springfield, Mass., broke the mile record for motorcycles by making a mile in one minute nine seconds.

W. T. Thomas, of Detroit, broke the record for machines under 1000 pounds of one minute thirty-five and three-fifths seconds by doing a mile in one minute six seconds on an Oldsmobile. J. P. Hathaway broke the record for "steamers" of one minute and fifty-one second with a mile in one twenty-eight.

Oshkosh, Wis., March 26.—After yawning without interruption for three days, Mrs. William Henry Jenner is dead. She was unable to sleep and yawned until she could do so no more from lack of strength.

PROSPEROUS MARION

Last week, in company with M. E. Robinson, the Florida representative of the shoe house of Joseph Rosenheim & Sons, of Savannah, the Star representatives took a trip through the north and northwestern portion of the county and found everything in a prosperous condition, but too much rain.

The first stop was at Kendrick, where we called on Will Chappell, O. G. Olin and the Standard Lime Co., all merchants and doing a good business. The plant of the Standard Lime Co., one of the best of its kind in the state and among the purest and most accessible deposits in the state, has four kilns and is turning out a great deal of lime. The company has just put in a neat $5000 sawmill and barrel factory with which to make their own barrels. This plant is just now in good running order and is turning out first class barrels.

Next we stopped at E. C. McLeod's sawmill and McLeod & Fraser's lime kiln, two miles further on. Here everything was busy and lumber and lime was being shipped in a lively manner. This company has a splendid deposit of high grade lime rock. From there to Martin was a short drive, where we called on Messrs. Dupree and R. Veillard, two prosperous mercantile firms, doing a fine business.

The next stop was at Lowell, where we visited the store of J. M. Meffert, in charge of Mr. Wood, and Mr. Meffert's sawmill, both well equipped and handily situated to the railroad. Mr. Meffert has a fine mill here and cuts a great deal of excellent lumber.

Leaving Lowell we drove across to Fairfield, the terminus of the G. & G. Ry., a thrifty town. Dr. Gattrell has a big store filled with general merchandise and is building up a fine business. Mr. Wood keeps a prosperous general store also and operates the sawmill. We inspected the turpentine still and commissary of Wade & McNair, L. K. Edwards, manager. This company has one of the best equipped and most convenient stills in the state, and has been running full blast all through the heavy rains. Mr. Edwards has a well stocked commissary only a few yards from the still, both being right on the railroad, and his residence only two hundred yards distant. The people of Fairfield are very much in hopes of the G. & G. finally being built to Ocala.

The next place visited was Flemington, where we spent the night. This is one of the garden spots of the county; high, rolling and fertile lands covered with crops. Mrs. J. L. Dow and Mrs. M. C. Gray each have a general store and both keep a well selected stock. Both of these excellent ladies keep boarders, and they feast them on the fat of the land.

Early next morning we started for home, via McIntosh, and from Flemington to McIntosh drove through one of the prettiest stretches of rolling lands in the state, almost every acre of the last four miles being in cultivation. The perfume of orange blossoms was scarce out of our nostrils during the last three miles, and some of the groves remind one of the olden days. The trees have been well cultivated and are thrifty and green and astonish one with their growth. There will be at least a hundred thousand boxes of oranges the coming season in the northern part of Marion county, of which McIntosh is the center.

At McIntosh we called on W. R. Baker, the prosperous general merchant, where our genial friend, W. E. Allen, holds forth, and found them doing a thriving business and greatly enthused over the prospects of fruit and vegetables. Cabbage and lettuce are moving from this point by the car lots and have been bringing good prices. Christian & Dickson Co. here have one of the largest and best stocked country stores in Florida and keep from six to twelve salesmen busy waiting on the trade. They ship 500 dozen eggs per week to all parts of the state; and, by the way, W. R. Baker ships nearly as many.

Leaving McIntosh we stopped a short time at Orange Lake and called on the merchants there. This point also is busy shipping and the groves look well. They are just completing their new depot, to take the place of the one burned.

Next we stopped at Reddick and visited the sawmill of W. D. Bobbitt and the stores of Dupree and Rou, both well stocked general stores with fine, up to date stocks.

We found every one encouraged over the outlook for vegetable and melon shipments and the opinion prevails that prosperity for truck grower and merchant is the order of the future.
